“ My prayers go out to your family at this difficult time. I too have lost a child and the pain is truly unbearable. It helps knowing God only picks special children .to complete a task he has in mind. May your family become closer with your lose. It's so very hard for the sibilings so be there to comfort them. I treasure each day I had with my loved ones even though I can't put my arms around them and give them a hug. Even though I don't know your family I am touched by your lose and send my prayers to you. Your guardian angel will watch over all her loved ones until you are together again.

“ Carrie, you are my youngest and it just isn't right that a child should go before a parent but sometimes it is just Gods will. You will be missed and I will always love you. I just wish I could have been there to say goodbye and I know we will see each other again. Life was hard and you always made the most of it. You were such a special person to everyone you met, and a very special little girl. Things flood through a parents mind when a child dies and there is not one thing to write about you it would take a book to write about your life, the ups, the downs, the laughter, the tears. Just know that your Mother loves you so very much but you know that regardless of what is said. You and I know and that is all that counts. I know your Father loved you in his own way and we will miss you and the hurt will always be in our hearts until we are together again..Love you Mom!!

“ Carrie, I can't express the feelings that is going through my mind at this moment,,,,So much to say and so little time to do it. We restarted our Father/Daughter relationship and all was doing so well,and something happened and it fell apart..why, I do not know. All of a sudden I was a bad guy again, However, that never stopped me from loving my little Goober, {my pet name for her}, I always thought we will get it together some day. Well, now your in Gods hands and he knows best what to do with us. I hope to see you again some day If I am selected to go to heaven, I love you Carrie, even though we have not seen each other for years. God Bless you, Daddy Loves You and so does your Mother, NEVER FORGET THAT!

“ Carrie and I met when I was just 10 years old and moved to Mason City. We were best friends and remained best friends for many years. If I wasn't at her house, she was at mine. We both got older had our own families and drifted apart. I truly regret that we never got to get together and talk and see each other again. She did however get in contact with my mother Margie Cook and my brother Jimmie Cook. My heart goes out to everyone especially her children. I have so many wonderful memories that will always be dear in my heart. I am really devastated. Hugs and prayers, Melanie A. Cook (Graham) ”
