“ So many memories flash in my mind when it comes to us and just you in general. The biggest one that we just laughed about was this ring. I was filling out our apartment application and you were so antsy telling me you had something to give me and I kept telling you to stop and let me finish and after going back and forth and you pushing all my buttons, you finally just tossed the box on the application packet and said "I can't wait, just look." The moments we spent together will never be forgotten and I will cherish them always. All my promises will still be kept promises. I love you forever Cody Anthony Wayne. Fly high baby! 🙏
