“ To her family - I am SO sorry for your loss.
I still find it hard to believe I won't hear Debbie's voice again. We spoke often by phone even when I lived out of state. Sometimes she would call back right after we said our good byes and if she got my answering machine I would hear her say, " Uncle Ray, uncle Ray, pick up, I forgot to tell you something." Sometimes it was nothing more than the latest thing Phoebe her cat had done. Then we would end up talking another half hour. I could never ignore a call from her nor did I want to, she new it and used it. :)
I remember her sitting next to me on the school bus when she started 1st grade, so shy and quite. Even after she had grown up and had her own family, she always seemed like a little sister, the little girl on the bus.

I told her more than once that I loved her. I could hear in her voice it was something she needed/liked hearing.

I will never stop missing Debbie.

A warm wonderful bright light has gone out.

“ It is with much sadness that I send this message. Debbie was my cousin. We play together a lot when we were young. I pray you can find some kind of comfort.
Even though we did not see each other. I have the memories of growing up together. I will hold onto that. Hope you can hold onto the good memories also.

To the family of my niece Debbie. I am so sorry to here of her death. She was a very sweet person. She had a kind heart. I remember when she lived with her gramma and gramma bell(my mom and dad).mom would fix her hair In 2 little ponytails. She was about 4 or 5. She looked so cute. I seen her a few years ago at the bell reunion. It was so good to see her again. I pray for peace, strength and comfort for you family.Aunt Catherine.
