*Donnie will always be in my thoughts not only as a memory but as I in the future .the positive attitude to make an idea come to reality. Not whether u can do it but how do u make it work. Not to mention making fun of each other so we ended the conversation making each other laugh . The hard exterior he portrayed to his sons covered up the ole softy that he really was to support his family. Yes we will all miss him being around to give us a hard time but more importantly the importance of always having fun while we r here. A good friend always
