“ *I love this handsome picture of George whose quiet strength and warm smile welcomed us the first time Jim and I visited our wonderful cousins after we married and came to live close by. What a wonderful summer that was! Thanks for all the memories and for “adopting” us into your family and keeping us posted all these years later. Lots of our loved ones are getting promoted to eternity these days. Rejoicing in those grand reunions knowing they are cheering us on down here. We send our love and condolences. “ He was a gentle giant. Loved him dearly. He helped me in so many ways. We shared religion, authors, good books, and many life conversations. I was always happy when we could sit and visit. I am privileged to have shared his company. Fly high my friend.
