Julie Ann "Mamma Jamma" (Wilson) Swope, 71, of Gridley, IL passed peacefully at 4:05pm, Saturday April 26th, surrounded by her loving children and close friends.

Julie was born on June 23rd, 1953 at BroMenn Hospital to Carthol Boyd and Ruth Ann (Herrington) Wilson. She married James H. Swope of Gridley, IL on January 15th, 1972. As her former spouse and friend, he survives.

Julie enjoyed doing anything related to art, being creative, cooking, Basset Hounds, or being outdoors. She could always be seen at her favorite camping spot #125 with her kids and all their friends at Comlara Park in her younger years or down at Fork Lake running the bait shop for one of the local RV and Campgrounds in her older years. Julie also had a huge passion for flowers, mainly Orchids. At one point she had over 500 plants, flowers, and/or orchids in her home. Aside from her 3 children, her other loves were her handsome bassets, Beauford, Winslow, and Chief. Julie had many nicknames through the years but her children called her Mamma Jamma and others knew her as Mom #2, Lady J, J-Bird, or Ms. Julie.

“ Julie and I lived in Navy Housing in San Diego in the 1980's. We soon became fast friends and had many fun, crazy adventures. She was an amazing woman , so talented in many areas, and always ready to step up when needed. Those were some great times for sure.

We kept in touch over the years, saw each other a couple times and shared many laughs over our time together in San Diego.

She will be greatly missed by many, and I will keep her & my memories of us in my heart forever! Rest well my dear friend .
