“ Larry was a critical part of the nursery staff. If we were unable to find a tool or part you could always find Larry and ask him were it was and he would be able to locate it. He was able to perform just about every task that was required to grow and process the nursery production. The other thing I remember about Larry was his metabolism. You could tell where Larry had been by the trail of empty candy bar wrappers.

Prayers go out to his family as they mourn his loss.
