Lowell Dean Pfeiffer passed away peacefully on November 10, 2024, in Sebring, Florida, at the age of 94. Born on May 15, 1930, in Rural Findlay, Illinois, to the late Arthur and Ethel Pfeiffer, Lowell grew up with a deep appreciation for family, hard work, and the natural world around him. He moved to Florida in 2000, bringing with him the same warmth and resilience that defined his life in Illinois.

A proud veteran, Lowell served his country in the United States Air Force, where he forged enduring friendships and a lifelong commitment to service. His career took him into the world of sales with the Kent Corporation, where he made a lasting impression through his dedication and remarkable ability to connect with others. Known for his charisma and humor, Lowell had a gift for storytelling and could often be found sharing a laugh or a well-timed joke among friends and family.

Lowell was a man of many passions. An avid outdoorsman, he found joy in hunting, fishing, and golfing, hobbies that brought him peace and companionship. He was also a skilled gardener and took great pride in learning what to grow in Florida's distinct climate, tackling each season with curiosity and determination. Lowell's love for animals stayed with him his entire life, dating back to his school days when he rode his pony, Doris, to school each day. As a young man, he once sold his beloved coon dog to fund a night at the prom, a story that epitomizes his kindness and dedication to others.

Deeply involved in his faith, Lowell was an active member of New Life Lutheran Church, where he formed strong bonds and lived out his values of compassion and service. A devoted family man, he cherished his role as a father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, taking immense pride in his family's accomplishments and showering them with love and guidance. Lowell leaves behind a legacy of strength, humor, and an unwavering commitment to those he loved.
