“ I met Nancy in Panama City Beach four years ago, not a long time compared to many of you I'm sure. But in those short for years, I grew to love her like the sister I never had but always imagined. We joked about being sisters from other mother's. She told me I was easy to train! Like how she liked her 7n7, take the little cubes out, line up the drink hole with the lighthouse! She had a dry sarcastic sense of humor just like me, probably why we bonded. I can't post some of the things we joked about on here but I will always remember. She and Carl came to visit us in PA and we made the trip to I'll to see them. Just last week she told me how pretty her Christmas is and hinted that I should make thumbprint cookies for PCB. I did. Our winter's will never be the same now. I truly loved her, I know she suffers no longer tho. Sympathy to Carl and all.
