“ Roger Perrine was one good dude ! We shared a lot of great times, especially with our mutual friend Ted Niebrugge, Roger to me was a free spirit, living life on his terms, he enjoyed the simple life and the pleasures and trials it presented to him and his family. There will never be another exactly like him. Later in life we drifted apart as you do when we all get older, but the memories of the times we spent together are still with me. One of my favorite memories about Roger was the magic tricks he used to perform to STYX song GRAND ILLUSION... everytime I hear that song that's where my mind takes to to a tiny apartment in Pekin... God Bless you Roger , and especially the family and friends you have left behind. Thanks for the laughter and friendship,,, I pray God comforts your wife and children in these up coming days and into the future.. Rest in Peace Amigo, your suffering is over and today you walk the streets of gold in Paradise. I am sure the Lord will enjoy having you around.

“ Brenda, no words can ever say how sorry we are for your loss. Not only did you lose your husband and the kids, their father, everyone that was his friend, lost alot too.

The few things that I will never forget about Roger was how he made sure I was taken care of with Brandon at the campground when Pat was not there yet. I was not a bother to him, or you for that fact, and he made sure that I did not go without. He taught me how to start a fire and then I would get mad when he would come over and try to start it after he taught me how... I said, "I want to start this on my own." He would laugh and and walk away, and then stood there across the path with his arms folded when I needed his help and he knew it.

Roger was a stand-up guy and a true friend to all. The Sunday morning breakfasts... Oh my gosh could that man cook! Not only did he cook for your family, but he cooked for almost half of the campground. His makeshift grill that worked amazing, the tarp awning that would stand up in a tornado- when mine ripped in half four times.

Youu have a lot of good memories and all his friends do too. Just know, he will be missed and if you need anything, please let us know. We love you guys very much and I wish there was something I could say to make this better, but God will help you through this and you know he will.

“ Some of our fondest memories are at the campground sitting around the fire and enjoying time with friends. Roger was an amazing friend and will be missed dearly. His Sunday breakfasts on his famous grill were always amazing! We are deeply saddened by the loss of a great friend! Sending our love, hugs and prayers to all.
