Thomas will be remembered for his talent, warmth, and the joy he brought to those who knew him.

Cremations rites have been accorded and no services are planned at this time.

Memorial contributions may be made in Thomas's name to the donor's choice of charity. Online condolences can be left for his family at www.hurleyfh.com. Hurley Funeral Home in Havana is in charge of arrangements.

“ He never liked photos much. These were the only ones I could find of him. This was from Christmas 1986. He always loved decorating for Christmas. He liked to get big fat trees that took up half the basement and, being a basement, of course, they were always too tall to fit, so we would have to chop off the top few feet! Christmas was always a good time of the year. Right behind the mural wall was his workshop. If he had more time, I think he would have liked building stuff more. I had a chemistry set in there for a while and almost blew myself up a couple of times. I don't remember him building them when I was older, but when I was younger, he built model airplanes in there as well. He had a Corsair with wings that folded up that I always thought was the coolest thing.
